Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 2 Hours

Buzz, buzz, buzz, little bee buzz around. In this tutorial we show you how to make a funny fence stool out of a terracotta pot. Apart from the bee, other animals can of course also be designed using the same procedure. Turn your fence into a funny animal show!

That's how the perky bee walks:

Place the rose pot on the table with the opening facing down and glue the Polystyrene Egg from above with hot glue.

Mix the concrete according to the packing instructions. Coat the rose pot and the egg with the mixture. Form a spike and place it on the pot. Tip: To smooth the concrete mass, moisten your hands well and brush over it.

After drying, coat with casting compound paint primer. The transparent water-based primer closes open-pored surfaces and prevents the paint from seeping into your blank.

When it has dried, you can paint the bee with VBSOutdoor Color. After painting, paint over the figure with the weatherproof impregnation. This will permanently seal your fence stool and protect it from dirt and moisture. It becomes weatherproof and weather-proof

Cut off 2 times approx. 10 cm long pieces of the aluminium wire. Glue a wooden bead to one end with hot glue and paint everything black. Then glue the feelers to the head. Bend the wings out of the wire as well and fix them with hot glue on the backside.
