Instructions: Memo board with board paint in chalk tones

Instructions No. 1298

The memoboard is painted with Magnetic paint and with Board paint in chalk tones! Your notes will hold securely and at the same time personal messages can be written on the board with chalk

And this is how it is done:

First, the memo board "house" is primed with Magnetic paint . To ensure that the pins hold particularly well later, two tothree more coats of Magnetic paint should be applied to the wood.

Now everything is covered with VBS Board paint in colour Taupe painted. For the "roof strip" of the memoboard, the colour Antique Grey was used in the decoration example.

Behind all flowers and buttons, which will later be used as note holders, a magnet (extra strong!) is now glued behind each one with super glue. More flowers, Jute ribbon, and buttons can now be decorated on the memoboard according to your own taste.

Extra handicraft tip:

A small sponge hung up on Ribbon and also decoratively hung up blackboard chalk are small optical details on the memo board, which are particularly effective.
